A Penny Saved

Remember the adage, "A penny saved is a penny earned," and how true it was! Today that familiar maxim might be more appropriate if changed to say, "A penny saved is a penny and one-fourth earned."

The recent increase in Social Security benefits will undoubtedly benefit thousands. By the same token, the recent increase in Social Security will burden hundreds of thousands with additional taxes.

Legislators passed the bill with relatively little opposition and were pleased to announce that although benefits would increase 10 per cent and retroactive to January 1, 1971, it would not be necessary to increase Social Security taxes this year.

That's real nice. However, there was already one increase effective January 1. If they say it won't be necessary to increase taxes this year, does that mean it will be next year? Yes, Congress has already approved such an increase.

For the individual who makes at least $7,800 a year, the January 1 increase will mean an additional $31.20 or a total of $405.60 in 1971. The employer pays this same amount. In 1972, the increase will cost someone making at least $9,000 another $62.40. Not only will he pay the increased amount, but his employer will also be required to match that figure.

So, think about that penny. It's going to take quite a bit more to replace it today.—Athens (Tex.) Review

10 Die in Kentucky Tornadoes

COLUMBIA, Ky. (AP) — Three tornadoes, following erratic routes through south-central Kentucky killed 10 persons, injured more than 100 and caused damage estimated at millions of dollars late Tuesday.

The destruction was concentrated in three areas along an 80-mile east-west path.

Six deaths were reported in Adair County, two in Russell County and two in the Butler-Warren counties section about 80 miles west of Columbia, the Adair County seat.

"It was just like a vacuum cleaner sucking up everything in sight," reported Cary Eaton, a Civil Defense official from Green County.

Eaton reported seeing autos "hanging in trees like Christmas ornaments."

The first twister was reported near South Hill, northwest of Bowling Green, about 10 p.m., then skipped along a 10-mile path, causing damage at Richlands and Reedyville and near South Hill, northwest of Bowling Green, about 10 p.m., then skipped along a 10-mile path, causing damage at Richlands and Reedyville and near Morgantown.

Approximately one hour later, a tornado moved through Casey and Adair counties, where the damage appeared heaviest.

The third hit northern Russell County near the community of Salem, about 20 miles east of Columbia.

The wide areas between the tornadoes, including Bowling Green, were drenched by heavy rains, leaving accumulations of water up to four feet deep.

Gas Rate Probe Is Continuing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A state Public Service Commission hearing into Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.'s sales contracts with industrial customers will continue Thursday.

The hearing was recessed March 18 after a month of cross-examination of Arkla's witnesses by attorneys for the industrial customers.

Tornado Rips 7 Homes Near Piggott

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A low pressure system and an associated cold front moved across Arkansas Tuesday, producing some severe thunderstorms and at least one tornado.

The state Civil Defense reported that a tornado touched down in the McDougal Community near Piggott, heavily damaging at least seven homes and destroying a barn. Power lines in the area were knocked down and trees were uprooted. No injury was reported.

The National Weather Service issued tornado watches for much of north and central Arkansas Tuesday and several severe thunderstorm warnings were issued for parts of the state.

The cold front which produced the severe weather moved out of the state Tuesday night and clear skies were reported across the state by midnight.

Fair skies and mild temperatures are expected in the state through Thursday.

Highs Tuesday were mostly in the 80s, ranging from 78 at Fayetteville to 86 at Texarkana and El Dorado. Highs today and Thursday were forecast in the 70s to low 80s.

Lows tonight should be in the low 40s northwest to mid 50s southeast.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 39, Harrison 46, Jonesboro 50, Pine Bluff 58, Texarkana 55, El Dorado 59, Memphis 56, Little Rock 48 and Fort Smith 42.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. include a trace at Memphis, Little Rock and Fort Smith and .10 at Jonesboro.

Carey Jury Is Near Completion

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jury selection was expected to be completed today in the first-degree murder trial of Andrew Carey, 28, of Little Rock.

Eleven jurors were seated Tuesday and the trial was recessed until 9:30 a.m. today.

Carey is charged in the shooting of Eugene Preston, 18, of Leighton, Ala., whose body was found Sept. 18, 1969, near the Saline-Pulaski County line. Carey was arrested Jan. 14, 1970.

Tax Returns of Gov. Wallace's Donors Are Under Scrutiny

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department, in a move that may spark a political storm, is probing possible income tax violations in the handling of campaign funds by close associates of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

A federal grand jury, aided by two Justice Department experts, is to resume its secret investigation Thursday in Montgomery, Ala., after a two-week recess. Sources say indictments may be handed down soon.

Gerald Wallace, the governor's brother, and Seymour Trammell, Wallace's top financial aide until two years ago, are believed to be central figures in the probe. There has been no indication that Gov. Wallace is directly involved.

The grand jury is digging into campaign donations for both Wallace's third-party run for President in 1968 and his late wife's election as governor in 1966.

The panel already has heard testimony that phony invoices were issued by an advertising agency to big campaign backers in the governor's race. The probe also has focused on presidential race contributions from contractors doing business with the state.

A $25,000 donation from a school textbook supplier is reported to be among the campaign checks under investigation.

Bob Hayes to Appear at Fair Park Show

BOB HAYES

Bob Hayes, wide receiver for the Dallas Cowboy pro football team, will be one of three featured speakers to appear at the Hope High School Student Council-sponsored "Family Fun Festival in Fair Park Coliseum."

All the proceeds of this affair will go to the C.O.D.E. program, a drug-fighting program associated with "Smart-Set International Inc.," a world-wide drug-fighting organization.

Hempstead County's local program was fathered by the Rev. Gordon Renshaw of Hope's Unity Baptist Church.

Speaking on the program with Bob Hayes will also be outstanding cornerback for the Dallas club Cornell Greene and Pittsburgh Steeler Quarterback Terry Bradshaw. Terry was also known to many sportscasters as "The Bullit," Bob is, according to teammate Dan Reeves, the trademark of the Cowboys. "The thing about Bob," comments Reeves, "is that he does at least one thing different, something we've not even seen at practice, in every game that usually drives the fans and pass defense players falling all over the field."

In coming issues of the Star we will have biography on Cornell Greene and Terry Bradshaw.

The "Fun Festival" will begin at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, May 1, at fair park. Tickets for this event which will include several local Rock, Soul, Country and Western, and Pop groups, are available at the door. Prices will be $1.50 for adults and for students $1.00. This event concludes at 7:00 p.m. and then the Forum on Drug Abuse will begin at 7:30 p.m. A separate ticket must be purchased for this function. Advance tickets are $1.00 for adults and $.50 for children under 12. Tickets at the gate of the Third District Livestock Coliseum where the affair is to take place, will be available beginning at 7:00 and are $1.50 for adults and $.75 for children under 12.

The Council urges all citizens of Hope and its surrounding areas to come out and support this worthwhile program of Drug-Fighting and enjoy the fine entertainment and Guest Speakers.

Advance tickets will be available beginning Tuesday at the following locations: The Citizen's National Bank, The First National Bank, Anderson-Frazier Insurance Agency and Hope Auto Co. Inc.

The grand jury could return tax fraud indictments if it finds advertising invoices were used by contributors to deduct campaign checks as business expenses on income tax returns.

Nixon News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will hold a news conference open to live radio and television coverage Thursday night at 9 p.m. EDT, the White House says.

City Buys Machine to Clear Sewers

The Board of City Directors approved the purchase of a Jet-Type sewer-cleaning machine for use by the water department in the maintenance of sanitary sewer lines. Several different types of sewer cleaning machines have been demonstrated in Hope during the past year.

Frank Ramsey, water superintendent, whose crew maintain the system, says the Jet-Type machine is the most effective method of unclogging sewer lines. The new machine will cost $5,700, which is the lowest priced machine of this type that has been demonstrated.

The Board reviewed a comprehensive planning study for the future development of Hope that has just been completed by Thomas E. Hodges of Urban Planning Associates in Little Rock. The study, which was started over two years ago, and has proceeded under the direction of the Planning & Zoning Commission, was financed 75 per cent by a federal planning grant. The Board of Directors did not put their final approval on the study, as they wanted to review it during the next two weeks. It will be up for final approval at the next meeting of the board which will be May 11.

A comprehensive development plan is one of the requirements of the federal government for receiving most any kind of federal aid. The State Highway Department now requires such a study in connection with their development of state highways into a community.

In other action, the Board of Directors approved the paving of one block of Hammond Street and a short section of Avenue A around the Calvary Baptist Church, which is located on West Avenue B. The church plans to pay the entire cost of the paving, since they have been unable to get property owner participation from neighbors.

Directors approved the opening of Avenue A from Hammond to Holland Street, a distance of two blocks. Buster Rogers, who has an equipment storage yard in this area, offered to clear the right-of-way if the city would gravel that section of the street. This street was dedicated in the original plat of that area but has never been open.

The directors passed a resolution condemning an old dilapidated house located in the 200 block of East 7th Street which has run down into a condition beyond repair.

The board ordered that the gates at Fair Park be locked at 11 o'clock each night and that a sign be placed at the entrance advising the public that the park will be closed at that time. Several recent acts of vandalism at the park prompted this action. The police will lock the park gates at 11 o'clock, or earlier if there is no activity in the park.

Students Reject Fund Request

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — University of Kansas students have rejected a proposal that $130,000 of their activities funds be turned over to the university to help offset a budget cut made by the Kansas Legislature.

David Miller, president of the student body, announced today that the vote in Tuesday's referendum was 2,151 to 1,878 against the issue.

Miller said some of the reasons for rejection appeared to be that although the $130,000 was a small percentage of the university's budget it was nearly a third of the entire activity fee total, that some students were concerned they would be setting a precedent, and there was some confusion about how the money would be spent, and that many students simply were uninformed about the situation.

'Teen-Age Jury Is Fixing Penalty for 'Teen-Age Offenders

By DALA MCKINSEY
Associated Press Writer

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — For youthful offenders in Rogers, the trial is not by his peers, but the punishment is.

This small, Northwest Arkansas town has implemented a Teen Jury, whereby teen-agers, once found guilty in Municipal Court, can receive their punishment doled out by their classmates.

Municipal Judge Davis Duty said the Teen Jury was not formulated to alleviate a teen-age crime wave in Rogers. On the contrary, the purpose was to avoid any such problem that might arise as Rogers continues to grow.

He said there was a chasm between "adults and teen-agers as acutely here as anywhere else. The adults are not reaching the teen-agers."

"Instead of overlooking it, we decided to bridge the gulf now," he said.

Rather than being lenient on offenders, as might be expected, the Teen Jury is demanding.

Duty said one jury member explained that in order for the adults of the community to allow the jury to function "our standards have to be higher."

Duty said in the past the teens had banded together defensively against the adults, but appear to be able to meet their own problems fairly.

Duty said the jury seems to have cut down the number of teen-age offenses. He said there was one three-week period when it was not necessary for the jury to meet.

Police Chief Jack Cole reserved blanket endorsement of the program, saying that while the incidents of crime by teen-agers had lessened, crime in Rogers as a whole "is in a period of recession."

Under the system set up by Duty, the teen-ager appears before him. If found guilty of a misdemeanor, the teen, under the age of 18, has the option of receiving the normal fine and/or imprisonment or can appear before the Teen Jury for punishment.

If the offender chooses the jury, Duty prepares a written statement on the offense for the jury and the guilty party goes before the jury, which meets on Thursday night.

Duty emphasized that the jury does not decide guilt. It only assigns punishment.

Duty says that about 30-40 persons have appeared before the jury and have received punishments ranging from writing letters to drawing maps of all the traffic signs in certain areas of town.

One unlucky violator drew a four-week sentence of washing all the town's patrol cars during the cold, winter months, Duty said. But, the punishment is not as bad as it may seem because the town only has three or four police cars.

If the punishment seems unreasonable to a teen, it can be refused and he can receive the punishment he would have received in municipal court.

The state Highway Commission voted Tuesday to add to the state highway system 10.1 miles of roads to seven fishing and boat-ing recreational areas.

Construction and improvements along the routes is to be financed from Highway Department revenue that results from the tax on motor fuels used for boating and fishing purposes. A survey taken 18 months ago indicated that the tax amounts to about $380,000 annually.

The job approved Tuesday by the commission were .9 of a mile of Arkansas 102 at the fish hatchery in Benton County for $31,960, 2.1 miles of Arkansas 18 at Mallard Lake in Mississippi County for $77,350, .4 of a mile of Arkansas 296 at First Old River in Miller County for $15,200, 2.5 miles of Arkansas 355 at Allen's Ferry Landing in Hempstead County for $85,000, .8 of a mile of Arkansas 9 at Lake Overcup Landing in Conway County for $8,280, and 3.2 miles of U.S. 63 at Lake St. Francis in Poinsett County for $139,896.

The commission also authorized $22,000 worth of repairs on the Mississippi River Bridge between West Memphis and Memphis, Tenn.

T-Sgt. Buford L. Royston, son of Mrs. Allie M. Royston of Prescott, is now on duty at Kunsan Air Base, Republic of Korea, with the recent reactivated and combat-proved 3rd Tactical Fighter Wing.

Lloyd F. Pollock of Rt. 2 Emmet will be a candidate for the Bachelor of Science degree in sociology and political science from Southern State College May 15. Pollock is the nephew of Miss Noble Faulkner of Emmet and is a 1966 graduate of Emmet High School.

Don Montgomery, 32, local farmer, was shot to death at his home near Hope under mysterious circumstances about 10 p.m. Tuesday, Sheriff Henry Sinyard reported.

The sheriff said Montgomery was shot in the left side of his face, but added he could give no further details until his investigation is completed.

The body was taken to Little Rock shortly before noon by County Coroner J. T. Honeycutt for an autopsy.

Montgomery is survived by his wife and two children.

2-Year Draft Extension Probable

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Armed Services Committee says the Senate will approve a two-year extension of the draft despite an expected stiff fight by war opponents seeking a one-year limit.

"I don't have any doubt about it myself," Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said Tuesday after his committee approved the draft extension measure. It also gives President Nixon authority to end college deferments.

The committee also voted a 100,000 reduction in the nation's armed forces during the year that starts July 1. If accepted by the House, the limit would mean about 2.4 million men in uniform by June 30, 1972.

"It means taking out a little more of the fat," Stennis said, adding the cuts, mainly in the Army, would have no effect on U.S. withdrawal plans in Indochina.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said he expects a close fight on whether the draft should be extended for one or two years when the bill, already passed by the House, comes to the Senate floor in about two weeks. The present draft law expires June 30.

President Nixon has said he hopes increased pay and other benefits contained in the bill, plus decreased U.S. manpower requirements, will enable draft calls to reach zero by mid-1973.

The Tale of How a Peg-Legged Duck Was Lost, and Then Found

By PIERCE LEHMBECK
SOUTH EGREMONT, Mass. (AP) — Someone ran over Peg-leg the other day and there's a void in our barnyard. The kids don't know it yet. But they will soon, when the meadow becons and Peg-leg isn't there to soar ahead of them as they race to the tree-line.

Peg-leg, you see, was a duck, a Merganser, we think. And she was most unusual—delightfully mischievous, inspirationally courageous and, it appears, fatally foolish.

She wasn't always called Peg-leg. For a long time it was just plain Duck. The name-change came after we found her one wintry morning leaning against the side of the house, her webbed feet so badly frost-bitten that they fell off within a few days.

That left her with just the stumps of her legs to get around on. It was heart-rending to watch her take the first painful steps on those legs, after we'd nursed her back to good health.

200 Arrested in Protest at SS Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police arrested about 200 antiwar activists today after they blocked the main entrance of the Selective Service System's headquarters building.

The youths, protesting at the building for the second straight day, formed what they called "a carpet of bodies" in front of the main doors.

Employees arriving early were told by the protesters they could enter the building but only if they walked over the demonstrators, lying face down as symbols of those killed in the Vietnam war.

The arrests were orderly and began after police issued two warnings.

As the arrests were being made at draft headquarters, other demonstrators were at the Internal Revenue Service handing out leaflets without incident.

Prior to today's demonstration, Chief Jerry V. Wilson of the District of Columbia police department, said persons attempting to block employees from entering draft headquarters would be arrested.

The demonstrations, organized by the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice, are part of a spring campaign to persuade Congress and the Nixon administration to end the war in Vietnam.

Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr met with eight demonstrators Tuesday and authorized Selective Service employees to leave the building and talk with protesters.

An estimated 150 demonstrators prevented several workers from re-entering the building after lunch. They allowed employees to leave at the end of the day but kept chanting, "Don't come back" and "Join us."

Tarr, despite his 6-foot-7 stature, walked out of the building without being recognized.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, planned target of demonstrators Thursday, announced it will provide meeting rooms for the protesters, and employees will answer questions about the agency.

2 Senators Would Halt Rail Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two powerful Senate Democrats suggested today that legislation be introduced to stop temporarily the National Rail Passenger System from beginning operations May 1.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana told the Senate Commerce Committee at a hearing on Amtrak that, if such legislation were introduced in the Senate Friday, he would assure that it would be immediately considered. Mansfield is Senate majority leader.

The Commerce Committee chairman, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said he was agreeable to the suggested legislation that would stymie the system for six months until it could be further studied.

But little by little they toughened and she could wobble along with the best of them. She was a little slower in the water, but that didn't seem to bother her.

It affected her flying, too. Instead of taking a running start and soaring off to the housetop, she'd stand in one place and flap her wings furiously until she rose like a helicopter.

It was Peg-leg's mischievousness that endeared her most. You knew she was contemplating mischief when she'd begin quacking softly, raise the scruff of her neck and waggle her tail feathers.

And if there was cat food or dog food to be had, Peg-leg would pass up her grain. At feeding time we'd have to set up a duck watch to make certain the other animals didn't go hungry.

Peg-leg should have known to stay out of that lane. A winter ago, she disappeared during a snowstorm and we figured she'd simply had enough of Berkshire winter and gone South.

Then came a telephone call and a man asked: "Lady, you lose a duck? We got one over here that's eating us out of chicken noodle soup."

As it turned out, Peg-leg had been hit by the tow dig plow and knocked cold. The driver had picked her up and had taken her to the road department garage, where he nursed her back to health.

There was no snowstorm to blame the day Peg-leg was killed.

It was a clear warm day when you could see the mountain tops.

Perhaps that's one of the sadder aspects of the whole thing. There'll be other Peg-legs. But it's possible there'll never be another country lane that a duck can safely cross. That apparently belongs to another era.

Suggest Feed Lots for Farm Quail

Now that May is almost here, it is time to do something about improving cover and food supplies for wildlife, according to George F. Brown, district conservationist.

Though the overall bobwhite quail population in Arkansas generally is good, he said that numbers have decreased recently in some areas, mainly due to changing agricultural land use. Row crops once were grown in patches or small fields. Weed seeds were numerous and birds usually found good supplies of waste grain and field peas near ample cover.

Now fields are larger, cultivated more intensively, and weeds often are eliminated with chemicals, a situation that does not favor bobwhites. Neither do improved pastures.

The best way to increase bobwhite numbers according to Brown is to grow their favorite foods near good cover. On many farms, odd areas that are not being utilized for crops make choice food plots. Some of the very best bobwhite foods to grow are bicolor of Japonica lespedeza, annual lespedeza, browntop millet, soybeans, cowpeas, and tickclover.

For best results, patches should be about one-fourth acre in size, contain a combination of different plants, and be spaced at the rate of one to 20 acres.

For detailed information on selecting suitable locations, Brown said that landowners and sportsmen groups are invited to contact him at his office in Room 212 of the Federal Building, or call him at 777-5561.

Murder Charged in Ft. Smith Case

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Earl Johnson Jr., 21, of Fort Smith was charged Tuesday with first-degree murder while attempting rape in connection with the shooting death Sunday of Mrs. Linda Long Aldridge, 19, of Fort Smith.

Prosecutor Bill Thompson of Fort Smith said the woman's body was found early Sunday in her family's apartment. Her body was discovered after her mother and sister were awakened by a man in the apartment, officers said.

Rogers Confers at Peace Parley

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Allies of the United States in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization endorsed today U.S. efforts to negotiate a Vietnam peace. They accused the Communist rulers of North Vietnam of demanding complete capitulation.

The communique winding up SEATO's two-day conference declared: "The trends in the military situation in Indochina were encouraging. The Republic of Vietnam has further developed its capability to defend itself effectively, thus enabling its allies to proceed with their troop withdrawals."

Pakistan, a member of the eight-nation alliance, disassociated itself from the communique. France, another member stayed away from the conference. Other participating countries were the United States, Britain, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and Thailand.

The communique contained no reference to the insurrections threatening Pakistan and Ceylon—indicating these crises were not discussed in open conference despite their implications for the security of the region.

On the Indochinese situation generally, foreign ministers of the United States and its SEATO allies observed: "The Khmer-Cambodian people and government continued to show a firm determination to resist North Vietnamese and Viet Cong aggression."

SEATO's judgment on the Indochinese situation followed detailed reports presented to the conference by Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam of South Vietnam, who attended as an observer.

Rogers had claimed President Nixon's policy of Vietnamization was going well and reported American troop strength in the country has been halved in the past two years. Lam gave an account of the Saigon government's push toward military self-sufficiency.

Rogers called in Ambassador

David K. E. Bruce, chief U.S. negotiator at the Paris peace talks, for an up-to-date report on the deadlocked negotiations. U.S. officials said no new American peace initiative is in the works.

Rogers flies Thursday to Ankara, Turkey, and on Saturday he begins a week-long trip to four Arab countries and Israel.

Big Aircraft Carrier Is Canceled

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over Navy objections, the Pentagon has surrendered to congressional opposition and postponed construction of a giant aircraft carrier which would break all records for cost.

Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard told congressional committees Tuesday the Pentagon, "in order to keep the budget within reasonable limits ... it was considered desirable at this time to postpone the construction of an additional nuclear carrier."

The rock on which the carrier project foundered was refusal by key senators to go along with what they denounced as "back-door financing"—a process that would avoid bringing the issue before the full Congress.

Underlying the concern was the price of the 95,000 ton vessel, which would be the fourth nuclear-powered aircraft carrier in the fleet. The Navy has estimated the cost as at least $640 million, but the price probably has risen substantially over the past year because of inflation.

Even at $640 million the new carrier would be the most expensive warship in history. Senate critics claim the carrier, with its planes and escorting vessels, would total at least $1.8 billion.

Packard did not refer to the chief congressional point of opposition, but other officials acknowledged in interviews the Defense Department gave in because Congress would not go for a device called "re-programming."

Navy Gets First Black Admiral

CHULA VISTA, Calif. (AP) — When Samuel L. Gravely Jr. joined the Navy nearly 30 years ago as an enlisted man, "they were not letting Negroes do anything," says his wife. "He used to clean up the pool hall."

Now he's in line to become the U.S. Navy's first black admiral.

Pentagon sources confirmed Tuesday that Capt. Gravely, 48, a one-time railway postal clerk from Richmond, Va., will be nominated for rear admiral by President Nixon. Senate confirmation is required.

Navy officials said it would be "unfair to imply Gravely got it" because of his color. "You don't give a guy three ships because he's black," one officer said.

Gravely, who was the first Negro to command a U.S. warship, is in mid-Pacific bringing the guided-missile frigate Jouett in to San Diego after seven months off Vietnam. She is scheduled to dock Saturday.

At his two-story home in this San Diego suburb, life was a bit more excited than usual.

"I was hoping, if he was selected, it wouldn't happen until he came home," Gravely's wife Alma said Tuesday night. "This way, I'm taking all of the congratulations."

The Gravelys have two sons, Robert, 13, and David, 10, and a daughter, Tracey, 6.

"Doing the job well always gets you somewhere," said Mrs. Gravely. "It took longer, possibly, than for the average man, but we knew the Navy had opened up enough for a Negro to become an admiral."

Gravely joined the Navy in 1942 as an enlisted man, served a three-year hitch and then returned to Virginia Union University where he earned a bachelor's degree in history.

He earned his commission through officer candidate school at Columbia University.

"At that time they weren't sending Negroes to the Naval Academy," said Mrs. Gravely. Gravely was recalled to active duty in 1949, and from then on "progress came naturally to him," his wife said.

HELEN HELP US!

MY READERS ANSWER THE MAIL

Dear Helen:

Your reader who is under the impression that theater owners or managers do not enforce age limitations in R-and X-rated films should, for one night, stand by the box office and listen to the insulting rants of parents who become indignant and abusive because their little Suzie or Bobby was refused admission.

As a manager, I couldn't count the number of times I've had insults thrown at me by a parent who claimed his adolescent knew more about what's going on than I could ever put on the screen. These people are usually on their way to an evening out. They drop the kids off, figuring parental okay is all that is necessary.

One final word: When the day comes that theaters do not get lucrative box-returns from the thousands of patrons who break the door when (and they do) to see "adults only" pictures (then usually protest to City Hall after they've seen them three times), only then will adult films wend their way back to selected urban art houses. —THEATER MANAGER

Dear Helen: These ratings: People can be starved, tortured, massacred in a war movie, and it's General Admission. But if they toss in a few so-called dirty words and some nude scenes, it's Restricted.

I guess the code means, "Make War, not Love." —PUZZLED

Dear Helen:

Your answer to the young man in Vietnam whose letters were not being received by his wife in the U.S. should have included the suggestion that she contact her local chapter of the American National Red Cross.

Assistance available to U.S.

servicemen and their families by the Red Cross includes help with emergency communications, advice and counsel with personal problems, financial assistance to a wife when an allotment check is delayed, or to her husband if he needs cash to get home for a family crisis.

In our one small California county, 1,743 service families received assistance with communications, counseling or emergency financial aid last year.

We're here to help. Please use us! —RED CROSS DIRECTOR

Dear Helen:

I, too, have a teenage boy with long hair. He is constantly the butt of rotten remarks, especially from his uncle whose two SHORT-haired sons are the neighborhood troublemakers (perhaps because they resent their tyrannical father so much).

My son, like Mrs. J. B.'s, has worked since he was 12, paid his own way from the time he was 15, bought his own car and keeps up the insurance. He never answers back when these uptight adults downgrade him as a "long-haired hippie." What he THINKS is a different matter.

Like Mrs. B., I feel that the great majority of teens are good kids, and I've learned a lot about sharing and giving of oneself and caring, just from watching how they operate. When someone is in trouble, they're often right there to help, which is more than I can say about most adults.

The older generation wants respect, but how many of them give it? Why can't they see past hair style or dress to the real person. My son's hair is neat and clean and doesn't interfere with his job.

After all, George Washington wore a ponytail! —PROUD TO BE THE MOTHER OF A LONG-

500,000 Students Aided by SS

More than 500,000 students are presently receiving benefits from social security each month under the child-student provisions of the law, Otis A. Blackwood, district manager of the Texarkana office, reported.

Children, between the ages of 18 and 22 who are unmarried and fulltime students in an accredited school, are entitled to these student benefits on the accounts of their insured parents, he explained.

Mr. Blackwood stated that one out of every 12 students attending school is receiving assistance toward the advancement of his education as a result of these benefits. Students attending professional and business schools, as well as educational institutions, may qualify for these benefits.

Mr. Blackwood said that many children eligible for student benefits, as well as routine children benefits (under age 18), may not be getting them because of a failure to understand amendments which were enacted in 1967.

Prior to February 1968, a child could qualify for benefits on his mother's account only if the mother was currently insured (worked six quarters in the 13-quarter period prior to her death) or she was contributing more than one-half of the child's support when she died. The amendments allow a child to qualify on his mother's account if insured at the time of her death, the same provisions under which the child may qualify on his father's account.

Mr. Blackwood emphasized that any student eligible for benefits on his mother's account and presently not receiving them should contact the nearest social security office by phone or in person to file the necessary application as soon as possible.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWKY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — CBS's "60 Minutes" was split roughly down the middle night by two highly topical subjects: Chiang Kai-shek's China and the almost epidemic incidence of heart attack among American males.

Morely Safer handled a report on the flourishing economy and life on Formosa, back in the headlines since the initiation of Ping Pong diplomacy and discussion about admitting Red China to the United Nations.

The CBS man was granted an interview with the 84-year-old Chiang, a perfunctory affair in which Safer had to submit questions in advance and was permitted no follow-up questions. The session was further diminished by the necessity of working through a translator.

Then came Mike Wallace's look at the relationship of health habits to coronary disease.

"One man out of five will have a heart attack before he is 60," said Wallace who went to query an assortment of specialists about the situation.

One doctor, studying 5,000 residents of a New England community, drew a word portrait of a "prime candidate" for trouble: A middle-aged man, flabby with sedentary habits who eats and smokes too much, has high blood pressure, high cholesterol and a tendency toward diabetes.

However, a couple of other doctors stated that the evidence was not complete against either eating or smoking as a cause. Another suggested that if life styles and diets could be radically changed, the heart attack rate could be dramatically lowered within a few years.

Television's preoccupation with the drug scene during the past season has been notable. On several occasions. The viewer could have spent entire evenings watching programs in which drugs were involved.

Every dramatic series with a contemporary setting—particularly the lawyer, doctor and cop shows—has had several episodes involving narcotics. Every talk show has explored the subject with hosts interviewing ex-addicts, psychiatrists, authors and other experts.

The question occurs whether all this is having any effect on addicts needing help or in discouraging potential addicts. Perhaps families are more alert in recognizing symptoms, but in all the discussions heard by this viewer, no ex-addict has credited the media with giving him his first push in the right direction.

Flood Quits Baseball, Is in Europe

By TOM SEPPY

Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Curt Flood has quit baseball again. The once-great player who was talked out of retirement while his $3.1-million suit against baseball was pending, left the Washington Senators unexpectedly Tuesday and was en route to Europe.

The 33-year-old outfielder sent a telegram to Senators owner Robert Short just prior to the Washington-Minneapolis game.

"I tried. A year and one-half is too much. Very serious personal problems mounting. Thanks for your confidence and understanding. Flood."

Short, manager Ted Williams and his teammates said Flood's departure was caused primarily by personal problems and not the poor spring he's had in a baseball uniform.

"I personally feel bad that he's gone," said Williams. "There wasn't a guy on the club with a better attitude."

Flood quit baseball in 1969 when he was traded from the St. Louis Cardinals, for whom he played 12 seasons, to the Philadelphia Phillies. He refused to report.

He sat out the 1970 season in Copenhagen, Denmark, while suing baseball over its reserve clause which binds a player to one club for life or until he's traded.

After sitting out a year, Short induced him to return to baseball for $110,000. In the meantime, he lost his case in federal court and said he would appeal to the Supreme Court.

It was a difficult spring for Flood, who conceded he had trouble getting back into shape in the glare of unwelcome publicity.

Flood opened in centerfield for the Senators at the start of the season but was lifted twice for defensive purposes—he had won seven Gold Glove awards with St. Louis—before being benched.

He was then taken out of the lineup against right-handed pitchers. His last start was April 20 against the Yankees in New York although he pinchhit twice over the weekend.

Flood had a lifetime average of .293, with 1,854 hits, in 12 years with the Cardinals. He was hitting .200 with seven hits in 35 times at bat in 13 games with Washington this season.

He reportedly lost money in a restaurant venture in Copenhagen. To recoup those losses and to pay attorneys' fees for his suit against baseball was reasons he signed with the Senators.

Angels Spill Indians, 7 Times Losers

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Sam McDowell's spear-carrier almost won one for the Indians, but a late cavalry charge provided the typical Hollywood ending.

Ray Lamb, who works occasionally as a movie extra when he's not pitching for a living, made his first major league start Tuesday night as a stand-in for Cleveland ace McDowell ... and upstaged the California Angels for eight innings.

But Lamb left the scene in the ninth and his own back-up men took a beating as the Angels rallied for two runs and a 2-1 victory that stretched the Indians' winless string to seven games.

In other American League games, Baltimore trimmed Oakland 6-2, Washington blanked Minnesota 2-0, Milwaukee stopped Boston 4-2, Kansas City whipped Detroit 6-1 and the New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 6-5 in 12 innings.

In National League play, San Francisco nipped Atlanta 6-5 in 10 innings, Los Angeles downed Pittsburgh 7-5, the New York Mets shaded St. Louis 2-1, Houston nudged Philadelphia 1-0 and Cincinnati topped San Diego 6-1. The Chicago Cubs' game against Montreal was postponed because of cold, wet weather.

Lamb, a 26-year-old right-hander who resides in Glendale, Calif., and has appeared in several Hollywood films, pitched against the Angels as a last-minute replacement after Indians Manager Alvin Dark decided to give McDowell an extra day of rest.

Used exclusively in relief during two seasons with the Los Angeles Dodgers, he made the most of his initial start, scattering three hits and nursing a 1-0 lead through the eighth.

But Dark yanked him after Alex Johnson singled with one out in the ninth. Veteran Camilo Pascual came out of the bullpen and was rocked by Tony Conigliaro's double before giving way to Steve Mingori, who walked Jim Fregosi intentionally to fill the bases.

Chuck Mademehl became the fourth Cleveland pitcher in the inning and pinch hitter John Stephenson promptly delivered the tying run with a sacrifice fly, Conigliaro taking third after the catch. He scored the game-winner on Ken McMullen's single.

Ken Harrelson had given Lamb his slim lead with a second-inning homer off Angels' starter Andy Messersmith. Lloyd Allen was the winner with two innings of scoreless relief.

Dave Johnson drove in four runs with a single and double, extending his hitting streak to 16 consecutive games, as the Orioles subdued the A's for left-hander Dave McNally's fourth victory without a loss.

Angel Mangual's first major league homer, a two-run shot in the fourth, ruined McNally's shutout bid.

Denny McLain braked Minnesota's three-game winning streak, throttling the Twins on six hits for his second shutout in his last three starts.

Run-scoring singles by Tim Cullen and Bernie Allen pinned the loss on Bert Blyleven as the Senators shrugged off the loss of Curt Flood, who jumped the club Tuesday afternoon and headed for Spain.

Mike Hegan's third-inning homer helped stake Marty Pattin to a 3-0 lead at Boston and the Milwaukee right-hander held off the Red Sox with a six-hitter, ending their five-game win string.

Amos Otis homered for Kansas City and Bruce Dal Canton stopped the Tigers on six hits for his first American League pitching victory.

Felipe Alou punched a run-scoring single in the 12th to carry the Yankees past Chicago and hand the White Sox their fourth straight setback.

California where the medication is legal for racing under an experimental program. It is illegal in Kentucky and most other states.

But Leonard Foote, chief investigator for the California commission, said his records show Jim French was on a bute program when he won the Santa Anita Derby April 3.

Pacers, Utah Play Clutch Game Tonight

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Predictably, the American Basketball Association West Division playoffs have come down to "the game."

When the Indiana Pacers and Utah Stars square off in the seventh and deciding game at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum tonight, it will mean much more than another championship pennant flying in somebody's arena.

This game keeps the door open to a payoff of about $9,000 a man. A victory makes the season meaningful and nearly complete. Defeat means only emptiness and a long summer of contemplation over what might have been.

The game will be played before more than 11,000 fans and a statewide television audience. The winner will advance to the ABA championship series against the Kentucky Colonels, Eastern Division winners.

The Pacers and Stars are two of the most evenly matched opponents in the annals of professional basketball.

Indiana edged Utah by one game for the regular season ABA West crown, after a season-long dogfight. During that regular season, the two teams split 12 games, and each won four on its home court. Utah outscored the Pacers by a total of only five points.

The playoff games have been an absorbing drama all their own. Utah took three of the first four games, and embarrassed the proud ABA defending champion Pacers in both defeats at Utah's Salt Palace.

The Pacers, down 3-1, used muscle and a sticky defense to barge back into the picture with a pair of tension-packed victories, including a 105-102 scorching Saturday at Utah.

Indiana's Bill Keller, a 5-foot-10 second-year guard from Purdue, helped ignite the Pacers to those important victories with his great three-point shooting and sparkling ball-handling.

Baseball Notes From Hank Aaron, Willie Stargell Revealing

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Records are made to be broken but winning, according to Hank Aaron and Willie Stargell, is the name of the game.

"I was looking forward to hitting it in a winning game," said Aaron after becoming the third player in baseball history to hit 600 home runs. Atlanta, however, lost to San Francisco 6-5 on Willie Mays' 10th-inning single Tuesday night.

"So what did it get me?" asked Stargell after belting his 11th home run of the season in Pittsburgh's 7-5 loss to Los Angeles, wiping out the April record of 10 set in 1969 by Baltimore's Frank Robinson and matched last year by Cincinnati's Tony Perez. "I'd rather have won."

Elsewhere in the National League, the New York Mets edged St. Louis 2-1, Cincinnati trounced San Diego 6-1, Houston nipped Philadelphia 1-0 and the Montreal-Chicago Cubs game was called off due to cold and wet grounds.

American League scores: Baltimore 6, Oakland 2; California 2, Cleveland 1; Milwaukee 4, Boston 2; Washington 2, Minnesota 0; Kansas City 8, Detroit 1 and New York Yankees 6, Chicago White Sox 5 in 12 innings.

Aaron, whose 600 homers trails only Babe Ruth's 714 and Mays 633, started his memorable evening with a run-scoring double in the first inning. It was his 542nd and tied him for eighth place on the all-time list with Harry Heilmann. "I hit it better than the home run," he said, "but I knew it wasn't going out because it wasn't high enough."

The big home run came in the third inning on the first pitch from Gaylord Perry following Ralph Garr's infield singler. The towering drive carried an estimated 350 feet, hitting well up on the wall of the left field stands behind the outfield fence.

"I knew the moment I hit it was gone. It was a high inside fast ball and I was guessing fast ball because he had thrown me several my first time up."

The 37-year-old Aaron isn't thinking about Ruth, though. "My next goal," he said, "is to hit the next one. If I get on a hot streak, the home runs will come."

For the moment, however, he is thinking about Mays, whose game-winning hit followed singles by Hal Lanier and Chris Speier. "Willie spoiled my day," Aaron smiled sadly.

And Mays had some thoughts about Aaron. "It was just another milestone," Willie said. "What's a milestone to him? He's not going to stop there."

Willie McCovey erased Atlanta's lead with a fifth-inning homer and then put the Giants in front with a sacrifice fly in the seventh. Garr, whose consecutive hit streak finally ended at eight, singled home the knotter in the last of the seventh following Marty Perez' triple.

The Dodgers wiped out a 3-0 Pittsburgh lead with four runs in the seventh, including Jim Lefebvre's two-run single, and added three more in the eighth, with Manny Mota contributing a two-run double. Richie Hebner cracked a pinch homer for the Pirates in the eighth and Stargell slammed his record-breaker in the ninth.

Having blasted Bob Gibson Monday night, the Mets snapped Steve Carlton's four-game winning streak Tuesday. They pushed across two runs off the Cardinal left in the third on Tommie Agee's single, Bud Harrelson's double, Lou Brock's error, an infield out and a wild pitch.

Jerry Koosman, with big assists from Ken Singleton and Danny Frisella posted his first victory. Singleton threw out the potential tying run at the plate in the third inning and Frisella worked out a bases-loaded situation in the ninth by getting Ted Sizemore to pop out and fanning Joe Hague. Joe Torre of the Cards got three singles and stretched his hitting skien to 21 games.

Cincinnati's Gary Nolan needed help from Clay Carroll in the eighth but also got his first triumph. The only San Diego run came in the first inning on Don Mason's first homer since 1966.

The Reds scored twice in their half of the inning on Lee May's RBI single and a sacrifice fly by Tommy Helms.

Johnny Bench stole home and Helms second on a delayed double steal in the third and Pete Rose snapped an 0-for-14 slump with a run-scoring single in the eighth.

Doug Rader's eighth-inning sacrifice fly broke up a scoreless duel between Houston's Larry Dierker and Philly's Jim Bunning. Denis Menke opened the inning with a single, was sacrificed to second and stole third before Rader drove him in.

Alpert and Wadkins Tie, North-South

By KEN ALYTA
AP Sports Writer
PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Jeff Alpert, a former professional who now owns a trucking business in Mapleshade, N.J., was paired with national amateur champion Lanny Wadkins in this morning's third round of the North and South amateur golf tournament. But it took a combination of unusual events for the long-hitting 26-year-old former University of Miami player to get that far.

Alpert regained his amateur status last June after the required two-year wait following a brief, depressing experience as a pro during which he twice just missed obtaining a PGA tournament player's card in the qualifying tournament.

He drove down from New Jersey last weekend for a qualifying round Saturday in which 130 nonexempt players sought 29 available places in Monday's starting match play field of 128.

Alpert shot a shaky front nine 42, three-putting five times, then settled down for an incoming 34 for 76, five over par for the No. 5 course of the Pinehurst Country Club. It earned him a share of a six-way tie for the last four places and a spot in a sudden death playoff, set for 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

He hustled over to the club from his motel Sunday morning, "hit a bunch of seven irons and staff" then walked over to the first tee to await the start of the playoff. To his dismay, he discovered he was an hour late and the playoff was over. He had forgotten to adjust his alarm clock to daylight saving time which took effect Sunday morning.

600th for Aaron, But Atlanta Loses

By ED SHEARER

Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — "Willie spoiled my day," said Hammerin' Hank Aaron Tuesday night after the Atlanta Braves wasted his historic 600th lifetime home run when Willie Mays' 10th-inning single gave San Francisco a 6-5 victory.

Aaron joined Mays and the legendary Babe Ruth as the only players to reach the 600 plateau when he sent a towering fly ball over the left field fence in the third inning on Gaylord Perry's first pitch following a single by Ralph Garr.

"It was a high inside fast ball," said Aaron. "I knew the moment I hit it was gone."

"I was looking forward to hitting it in a winning game," said Aaron. "I just wish we had won. I had a chance to win in the ninth, but I popped up. Then Willie spoiled my day."

Mays' single, his fourth hit of the game, was the Giants' third in the 10th inning and scored Hal Lanier with the winning run.

"No, I felt no pressure, because I figured it would come," said Aaron, who hit his 599th here Sunday against San Diego. It took him only three at bats to reach 600. The Braves will send the ball and Aaron's bat to baseball's Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y.

"I thought all along I'd probably hit it off a pitcher I knew," said Aaron. "Perry is one of the best in the league."

"I read in the paper this morning where he said I'd have to earn it," he said. "I guess it perked me up a little. I wanted to hit it

Hawks Edge Rangers by 3 to 2

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Hull has a present for Madeline Rosenberg, it's the puck with which he scored the winning goal Tuesday night for a 3-2 overtime victory over the New York Rangers in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Hull's goal, his seventh of the playoffs but first in this series, came after Pit Martin won a face-off from Walt Tkaczuk and sailed past Ed Giacomin at 6:53 of the extra period.

"It was a long time a'coming," said Hull. "But I'm happy that when it came it was a winner."

"The puck is going to Madeline Rosenberg, a good friend of mine. She asked me before this series to save her the puck on the first goal I scored because it will be auctioned off to raise funds for charity. I don't know which charity. But I'll have to say she must have had faith in me," said Hull.

The victory gave the Hawks a 3-2 edge in their best-of-7 semifinal cup series. The series now shifts to New York for a game Thursday night. If the Hawks fail to clinch it then, the finale will be played in Chicago Sunday afternoon.

Until Hull ended the dramatic contest, it looked like it might be a repeat of the series opener when the Rangers fought from behind and won it 2-1 in overtime on Chicago ice.

The Hawks took a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Pat Stapleton and Chico Maki. But 16 seconds after Maki had scored, the Rangers counted on a goal by Vic Hadfield at 15:57 of the period.

New York took command and outshot Chicago 13-2 in the second period but had to wait until 32 seconds remained before Rod Seiling scored to tie the game.

The exciting third period was scoreless although Martin twice missed shots with goalie Ed Giacomin out of position in the final minute.

But Martin made up for it with his winning face-off pass to Hull to end the game.

NCCA Looks Into Raids by Pros

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — College athletics aren't crying "Uncle" to the pros, but the NCAA plans an investigation that could end up in a plea to Uncle Sam.

"Increasing intrusion into undergraduate athletics by the pros is a great concern," said Charles W. Neinas, a spokesman for the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"A committee study will determine whether we should seek federal legislation against the professional sports organizations."

The NCAA concluded a four-day meeting Tuesday with plans to appoint a select committee for study of the pro-college clashes.

Among main concern of the NCAA were:

—"Questionable signing tactics by the American Basketball Association."

—"Extreme pro pressure for use of collegiate athletic stadiums and arenas."

—"Hedging on agreements for television blackout protection by the National Football League."

Nienas said the complaints about television concerned mainly games in early September

Canadiens Take North Stars 6-1

MONTREAL (AP) — The fifth game of the Stanley Cup semifinal Tuesday night between the Montreal Canadiens and the Minnesota North Stars was tightly contested for 50 minutes.

The teams battled through a scoreless opening period and after 40 minutes, Montreal held a 1-0 lead on a goal by Peter Mahovich and the North Stars held an 18-11 edge in shots on goal.

But something happened to the North Stars in the final 10 minutes and when the siren wailed to end the game, the scoreboard showed Montreal 6, Minnesota 1.

The Canadiens now lead the best-of-7 series 3-2 with the sixth game scheduled for Minnesota Thursday night.

"It was good hockey until the third period," said North Stars Coach Jackie Gordon. "We had a meltdown..."

Guy Lapointe scored at 1:14 of the third period to put the Canadiens ahead 2-0, but 26 seconds later Danny Grant scored for Minnesota to put the North Stars right back into contention.

At 10:10 Peter Mahovich scored his second goal of the game and fifth of the playoffs, tipping in Lapointe's shot from the point.

At 12:50 John Ferguson scored for Montreal. Then Frank Mahovich notched his 10th goal of the playoffs at 13:41 and 54 seconds later Yvan Cournoyer rounded out the Canadiens' scoring splurge with his fifth goal of the playoffs.

Suddenly, it was no longer a close game—it was a rout.

Grant said that both he and Bill Goldsworthy had great chances early in the game, "but you have to give credit to ber when independent telecasts of pro exhibitions conflict with college and high school play in some areas.

"There are not supposed to be games telecast within a 75-mile radius of any high school games on Friday nights or college games all day Saturday," he said.

"This has been violated in the case of the preseason pros telecasts and the NCAA feels the spirit of the TV agreement has been damaged."

Ken Dryden, he kept that puck out."

Dryden, the former All-American at Cornell who was the key factor in the Canadiens' upset victory over Boston in the quarter-finals, faced a total of 27 Minnesota shots.

He stymied Jude Drouin, Bobby Rousseau and Goldsworthy in the first period after they each had worked their way free of Montreal defenders.

He also made good stops on shots by Lou Nanne, Drouin and Rousseau in the second period.

One of Dryden's save on Drouin resulted in an ugly, red welt on the goalie's right shoulder.

"It just caught me up here, where you don't really have much protection," said Dryden, pointing to the spot.

Dryden also said he was not really ready on Grant's goal.

Grant, a former Canadian, took Drouin's centering pass and fired the puck past Dryden from the lip of the crease.

Coach Al MacNeil of Montreal was extremely happy with the way his club performed.

Jean Beliveau of the Canadiens set a record for most assists in the playoffs with his three assists in the final period, bringing his total to 94.

His three assists also tied an NHL mark held by several different players.

John Ferguson of Montreal was taken to a hospital for overnight observation as a result of a sprained thigh muscle and was to be examined today to determine his availability for the sixth game Thursday night in Minnesota.

Hope Angels Expect Good 1971 Season

RUSTON, LA.—Despite a winless season in 1970, the Hope Angels are being looked upon as a contender for division honors as the North Central Amateur Baseball League (NCL) begins its 10th season.

Hope, whose first year was in 1970, has united in a merger with Perry's of the East Texas League, and figures to field a strong challenger to defending division champ Bradley. The tone for the season will be set on opening day—May 9—when the Angels host the Bisons of Bradley.

Other home games this year include June 5 and 6 (Magnolia), June 12 and 13 (Springhill), and June 20 (Bradley).

The North Central League was formed in 1962 and was so named because representative teams from such north central Louisiana towns as Dubach, Libson, Danville, Downsville, Simsboro, Ruston, and Arcadia formed the league. Today, only the Ruston Ramblers and Simsboro Burros remain as

Dedeaux Has Problems, Like All Coaches

Bob EGELKO
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For Rod Dedeaux, as for all college baseball coaches these days, his greatest successes pose his biggest problems.

Dedeaux, Southern California team won the NCAA championship last year, his sixth team to win the title since 1951. But the Trojans, 30-9 so far this year, are without Dave Kingman, who led last year's team with a .355 average. Kingman was due back this year but the San Francisco Giants offered him a six-figure contract.

"What can you say to a boy?" Dedeaux asks. "As much as it might hurt the team, as charter members of the league, which has expanded again this year to include Magnolia as its third Arkansas team.

The Western Division is comprised of the Angels, the Magnolia Giants, Bradley Bisons, and Springhill Internationals. The Eastern Division is made up of the Ramblers, Burros, Ruston Vols, and the West Monroe All Stars.

Hope is managed by Billy Don Hamm.

This year's All-Star game has been scheduled for Springhill on July 3 at 8 p.m. Information about game tickets and season tickets can be attained by contacting Hamm.

The league is affiliated with the National Baseball Congress, headquartered in Wichita, Kan. The NCL will send an all-league team to the state tournament in Ponchatoula in late July. Money from the league all-star game will be used to finance the team.

NCL president Jack Lewis of Simsboro said, "We are certainly proud to have Hope return this year. Their return despite a winless year indicates that Billy Don Hamm and his players are determined to build a good baseball program in Hope. Their manager with Perry's, I feel, is a prelude to championship potential in Hope. There's hope in Hope."

educators we have to think of the individual first. The economic situation being what it is, sometimes a boy and his family decide he can't afford to pass up an offer."

Top Golfers to Boycott N.Y. Tourney

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Officials of the Greater New Orleans Golf Tournament were openly indignant today that several former champions had declined to play in the $125,000 event that begins Thursday.

"Doug Sanders, George Archer, Mason Rudolph, Larry Hinson," named Jack Weis, a member of the tournament executive board and a former general chairman.

"None of them are here. "And Archer's going fishing. No other excuse.

"We feel that we have an obligation to our former champions. They have a lifetime exemption for this tournament. We feel we have helped them. And shouldn't they have some obligation to us? Shouldn't it be reciprocal?"

"But what really hurts is that statement of Hinson's that his greatest thrill was finishing second at Westchester. The only tournament he ever won was right here."

Hinson is in Japan on a promotion trip. He is not allowed to compete in a tournament, however.

Several other top names are skipping this event, the 17th of the year on the busy pro schedule.

Among them are PGA champion Jack Nicklaus, winner of last week's Tournament of Champions, leading money-winner Arnold Palmer, South African Gary Player and England's Tony Jacklin, the current U.S. Open titleholder.

The top attractions in the chase for the $25,000 first prize are Lee Trevino, the happy-go-lucky guy who won the satellite Tallahassee Open last week, and Billy Casper, one of the game's three $1 million winners.

Allen Out for Bucks, Bullets Game

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Lucius Allen is a winner, but when the Milwaukee Bucks take on the Baltimore Bullets in their third game of the National Basketball Association championship playoff finals tonight, Allen will be sitting on the bench.

The game, which will be nationally televised by ABC-TV, will start at 9 p.m. (EDT). The Bucks hold a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven games playoff.

Allen is Milwaukee's third guard, the one that relieves starters Oscar Robertson and Jon McGlocklin. And, like most of the other Bucks, Allen is confident the long basketball season will be over by Sunday.

Allen was the big star of Wyandotte High School in Kansas City, Kan., where he led his team to consecutive state championships.

Then he went to UCLA to team up with Lew Alcindor, the Bucks' 7-foot-2 sophomore center. Again he was with a winner.

Last season, his rookie year in the NBA, Allen played for the Seattle Supersonics.

"I was really lost at Seattle because we didn't win," Allen said. "It was the first time I had not played on a winner."

Then came a trade that sent Allen and forward Bob Boozer to the Bucks.

"I was unhappy at first," he said. "When you get traded, it means you didn't measure up to what the management expected of you."

Key Clubbers Speak at Kiwanis Meet

Randy Wright, Steve Harris, Jack Turner, and Paul Young, members of the Hope High School Key Club, gave a report of the recent MoArk District Key Club convention at Tuesday's meeting of Hope Kiwanis Club.

The Convention met in Hot Springs April 16, 17, and 18. The local Key Club, a Kiwanis sponsored organization, had sixteen members in attendance at this year's convention with E.P. Young, Jr., and Wm. E. Butler, Jr., as sponsors.

Randy Wright gave something of a general report of the convention. Steve Harris reviewed some of the projects and proposed projects of the local club as well as other clubs in the district. Jack Turner confined his remarks to the recreation and entertainment provided for those attending the convention, and Paul Young reported on convention, election of officers, resolutions and other items coming before the House of Delegates.

Dr. George Wright and Ford Ward were guests at Tuesday's meeting.

Call Calley Men Into Probe

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unofficial panel of antiwar congressmen called in men from Lt. William Calley's old outfit today after hearing of an unspoken policy of torture and murder of Vietnamese prisoners.

The committee, looking into alleged war crimes by Americans, scheduled appearances by several former enlisted men who served in the Americal Division's 11th Brigade a year after the My Lai massacre. Calley faces a life prison term for the murder of 22 unresisting Vietnamese at the hamlet.

The panel, headed by freshman Rep. Ronald V. Dellums, D-Calif., has no formal congressional standing, cannot issue subpoenas, and its witnesses appear voluntarily. Tuesday it heard unsworn testimony from former U.S. intelligence specialists that electrical torture, starvation and murder were tolerated, even encouraged, as methods of extracting information from prisoners.

"There were no instructions except to get the information, get it quickly and leave no marks," said former Spec. 5 Martinsen of Los Angeles.

A former interrogator, Martinsen said he beat prisoners himself and saw others shocked with a field telephone electrical generator connected to their ears or genitals.

Another former enlisted man, Kenneth B. Osborn, 25, of Washington, D.C., said he twice traveled on U.S. Marine helicopters when a prisoner was thrown out to his death to encourage others to talk.

In another incident, he said, Marines left a woman suspected of enemy sympathies in a cage, "without any toilet facilities, without any food and I believe without any water, and she died."

Osborn also said a female Chinese interpreter was shot to death by an American Army captain whom Osborn quoted as saying, "Seh was just a slope (Oriental), anyway. What does it matter?"

Former 1st Lt. Michael J. Uhl said he saw many prisoners tortured and beaten by interrogators he supervised as a counter-intelligence officer.

"Torture was a policy when I got there and it continued after I left," said Uhl, who served in Vietnam from November 1968 to April 1969.

He said such policy was never written down. "Clearly the Army would never allow itself to be caught with a document encouraging torture."

Nevertheless, he said, "torture became a logical method" in a war "where you could not distinguish between civilians and combatants ... where civilians in fact were sympathetic to the enemy."

Outfielder Don Baylor, 21, of Austin, Tex., is a rookie to watch with the Baltimore Orioles. He hit .327 with 22 homers at Rochester, N.Y. in 1970.

Korea Again Gives Parks Big Majority

By K.C. HWANG
Associated Press Writer

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park won a third term by a big margin today, but not quite as big as the last time.

With 73 per cent of the estimated 12.2 million votes in Tuesday's election tabulated, Park had 4.8 million votes to 3.9 million for National Assemblyman Kim Dae-jung of the New Democratic party.

Park's Democratic Republican party said it was clear the president had been elected to a third four-year term, but Kim refused to concede defeat.

Park, 53, an army general who took over after a military coup in 1961, won his first presidential term in 1963 by 156,000 votes. His winning margin rose to 1.2 million votes in 1967, but his plurality was running some 300,000 votes less this time.

The New Democrats charged that Park's party stuffed ballot boxes and committed other irregularities. It requested the Central Election Management Committee, a neutral body which supervised the election, to suspend all vote counting.

But the committee chairman, Choo Chae-hwang, said the New Democrats would have to present conclusive evidence to back its charges before the committee could halt the tabulation. He added that the count would be suspended only in the precincts where there was evidence of violations.

Park campaigned on the economic gains and political stability achieved during his first two terms as president.

Kim, 45, attempted to capitalize on desires for reunification of the Korean peninsula and suggested mail, press and sport exchanges with the Communists in the North as a first step. He also proposed neutralization of the Korean peninsula to be guaranteed by the United States, the Soviet Union, Communist China and Japan.

Park and his party will face another political test next month when elections will be held for an enlarged 204-seat National Assembly. In the present 175-seat assembly, the Democratic Republicans have 111 seats. The date for the election will be announced later this week.

Veneman to Guide Nixon Program

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has entrusted the job of winning passage of his No. 1 domestic legislation, welfare reform, to an administration second banana with a golden touch on Capitol Hill.

The assignment for John G. Veneman, undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare, casts a rare public spotlight on one those 11 No. 2 men in Cabinet Departments who share the workload but not the visibility of their bosses.

Veneman, for his part, was virtual co-secretary when his close friend Robert H. Finch headed HEW. Finch engaged Veneman in every problem from the lowliest department personnel squabble to the intra-administration donnybrook over school desegregation policy.

Finch has since moved to the White House staff. The new secretary, Elliot L. Richardson, has narrowed Veneman's assignments to make best use of his deputy's skill as a tactful and effective lobbyist with the Democratic-controlled Congress.

"Jack's not going to like this, but I think he and Wilbur Cohen have a lot in common," said Thomas L. C. Vail, chief counsel of the Senate Finance Committee. The comparison is a compliment. Democrat Cohen, the father of Medicare and HEW Secretary in the late Johnson years, is considered a legislative master.

Veneman, a 45-year-old peach farmer from Modesto who learned his legislative lessons during seven years in the California assembly, is "a constructive compromiser," said Vail.

The praise from Vail was echoed by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and now locked in a bitter dispute with the White House over another key Nixon proposal, revenue sharing.

Planes Fly Cover for Asian Allies

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Waves of U.S. warplanes attacked enemy positions on three fronts today in support of Cambodian and South Vietnamese troops.

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong eased their attacks in South Vietnam after four days of shelling, but struck anew in strength along Cambodia's highway to the sea. Hand-to-hand fighting was reported 55 miles southwest of Phnom Penh along Highway 4.

Informants in Saigon said U.S. fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese positions in the region in efforts to ease the pressure on the Cambodians.

More than 100 miles to the northeast, U.S. B52 bombers hammered North Vietnamese bases in eastern Cambodia near Highway 7 and around the giant Chup rubber plantation. Informants said there has been increased enemy activity in the region.

The B52 raids were in support of both Cambodian and South Vietnamese troops operating across Highway 7 in efforts to keep enemy forces from pushing southward into the heartland of Cambodia and South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command also announced that more than 300 American helicopter missions were flown in eastern Cambodia Tuesday in support of several South Vietnamese task forces operating there.

As many as 60 B52 bombers were in action in Indochina Tuesday and today, dropping 1,800 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese bases, troop concentrations, anti-aircraft sites, bunker complexes, truck parks and infiltration corridors.

The B52s also struck along the demilitarized zone and north of the A Shau valley in northwestern South Vietnam, in the Sepone area of Laos, and just to the southwest of Fire Base 6 near the tri-border juncture of South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The purpose of the bombing was to cut supply routes along frontier regions in continuing efforts to slow the flow of North Vietnamese ammunition, supplies and troops into South Vietnam and Cambodia.

The U.S. Command said an Army UH1 helicopter was shot down in South Vietnam Tuesday about 60 miles south of Da Nang. Two American crewmen were wounded. It raised to 7,743 the number of U.S. aircraft reported lost in Indochina.

In Saigon, four American soldiers and four Vietnamese were wounded Tuesday night when a grenade exploded in a downtown bar, U.S. officials said. The grenade apparently was thrown by a South Vietnamese paratrooper who was fighting with some South Vietnamese marines. The Vietnamese police claimed one marine was killed.

Defends U.S. Action in Vietnam

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate supporter of President Nixon's Southeast Asia policy says it is too early for self-determination in Vietnam, and the United States should aid in the re-election efforts of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

"It is evident that under present circumstances, self-determination and Vietnamization do not go hand in hand," said Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo.

"Hypocrisy," replied Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who was proposed legislation to prevent the U.S. Information Agency from engaging in propaganda on behalf of a foreign government.

Church, who contends the United States should stay out of Vietnamese politics, has accused the Russians of selling the present Saigon government "like a bar of soap."

At issue is the U.S. role in the Vietnamese presidential election scheduled next October. Thieu will be seeking re-election. Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Gen. Van "Big" Minh are expected to be his major rivals.

In a statement in the Congressional Record, McGee said self-determination can succeed "only through the absence of external or internal hindrances."

"It is a fact of life today that South Vietnam is not free of those hindrances," McGee said. "It is, therefore, in the interest of this government, particularly in the interest of our continued disengagement from the conflict, that we build up the Thieu regime and advance its political interests ..."

He said it is important the conflict be resolved "before self-determination can play a role in South Vietnamese politics and stand a chance of surviving."

Such an argument, Church said in an interview, "exposes the hypocrisy of the claim that our purpose is freedom of choice. This is just the living contradiction of everything we say we are there to do."

"If it's self-determination we're there for, the time has come to start observing it," Church said.

Daughters of Confederacy Meet

Mrs. C.B. Lewis of Pine Bluff, president of the Arkansas Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, was the featured speaker for the UDC District IV annual meeting last Wednesday April 21, in historic Washington.

She reported upon the recent division board meeting held in Little Rock, where plans were discussed for the annual division convention to be held in Brinkley October 12-14. She stressed the availability of the UDC military cross for veterans of all U.S. wars, urging members to secure them for their own close relatives.

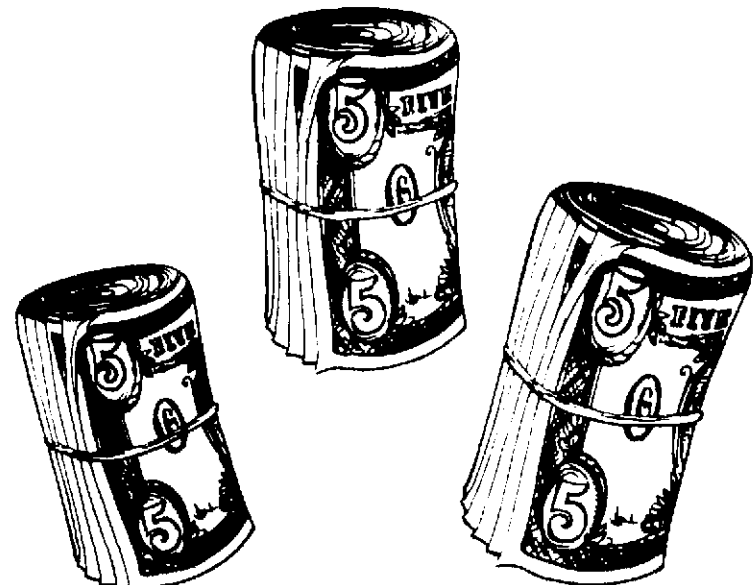

Also speaking briefly was Mrs. Boyce Drummond of Little Rock, director for the districts and immediate past president of the division. She noted that previously awarded district trophies will be placed in the Old State House in Little Rock.

Mrs. W.P. Spire of Texarkana presided over the general session, which included reports from the four chapters in District IV. Mrs. T.C. Watkins of El Dorado, division second vice president, reminded the group of essay contests open to students in grades 7-12 and of scholarships for high school seniors.

Mrs. R.M. Burrow of El Dorado, division publicity chairman, reviewed the Arkansas Prize-winning publicity display at the general convention in Richmond, Va., and urged submission of more publicity from individual chapters for use in the future.

The group voted to maintain a UDC records room in the Museum Building. Mrs. A.W. Merritt, in behalf of the Henry G. Bunn chapter in El Dorado, presented a check for $100 to the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation for use in this room. It was accepted by Mrs. Charles Haynes, executive director.

With Mrs. Lewis officiating, the following officers were installed: Mrs. Merritt, president; Mrs. J.W. Branch of Hope, vice president; Miss Eloise Clark of El Dorado, secretary; and Mrs. Wilbur Jones of Hope, treasurer. Lunch was served in a room featuring an old-fashioned soda fountain bar and a display of historic dolls.

This may be, in the eyesight of some people, out of order, but, as the kids of today say, "I'm sorry about that."

I can't help admire and respect the members of Lonoke Baptist Church. They have made a contribution to Hope that will forever be a tribute to not only a "congregation", but to an entire race. Under the leadership of two of the finest people that is has been my good fortune to meet, the late Rev. and Mrs. Walter White, Lonoke built a most beautiful church building, and on Sunday night April 25, 1971, one of the birthday groups reported enough money to completely "pay the debt".

Don't you know that they said on Sunday night, "what a time!" I wasn't present to help them rejoice and thank God for His gift. Don't you see what can be accomplished if only a few people would join hands and hearts and press forward in His Name?

Let me be among the first to congratulate and thank Lonoke for a contribution to my town. Of course, we all are counted in the success, and I know that they are grateful to everyone who helped them to accomplish this.

Travs Win 5-1 Over Birmingham

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Left-hander Rudy Arroyo threw a six-hitter as the Arkansas Travelers defeated Birmingham 5-1 Tuesday night.

Phil Trombino led the Arkansas attack with two singles. He scored one of the Traveler runs. Danny Napoleon smashed a double to the centerfield wall in the second inning and later scored for the first Traveler run. Napoleon had returned to the Arkansas line-up for the first time in a week. He had been called home because of an illness in his family.

The only Athletic run came in the seventh inning when John Hairston lashed a home run over the rightfield wall. That tied the score at 1-1, but Birmingham collapsed in the last of the seventh and surrendered four unearned runs.

Vietnamese Blamed in Drug Deaths

By JIM ADAMS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee says high-ranking, corrupt South Vietnamese officials were involved in drug traffic that killed 40 U.S. GIs last year and accounted for 22,000 trips to sick call.

No evidence was found to support an early suspicion that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were responsible for the rapid increase of heroin use by GIs in Vietnam, it said.

Altogether there were 160 deaths due to drugs and alcohol among U.S. forces worldwide, the special House Armed Services subcommittee said in a report released Tuesday. Drugs were suspected in another 56 GI deaths in Asia and the Pacific area.

The report said up to 10 percent of U.S. soldiers in Vietnam could be using hard drugs. It blamed what it called an increasingly serious heroin problem on abundant supplies from processing laboratories in Laos, with heroin coming also from Thailand and Hong Kong.

"Drug suppression in Vietnam is almost completely ineffective," it said, "partially because of an ineffective local police force and partially because some presently unknown corrupt officials in public office are involved in the drug traffic."

The subcommittee, headed by

Casualty Figures Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William D. Ford says the military's explanation of the recent rise of non-combat deaths in Vietnam has not allayed suspicions the Pentagon is engaging in a "grisly numbers game" to hide true horrors of the war.

In a letter to Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, the Michigan Democrat asked if the Pentagon is deliberately counting some combat deaths as accidental just to show a lower killed-in-action rate for political purposes.

According to Ford's figures, the number of noncombat deaths per 1,000 men rose from a low of 1.95 in 1965 to 3.57 in 1968, 4.45 in 1969 and 5.5 in 1970.

By comparison, the Pentagon listed 4.43 noncombat deaths per 1,000 men in 1965; 3.38 in 1966; 3.78 in 1967; 3.66 in 1968; 4.04 in 1969 and 4.73 in 1970.

The difference apparently is that Ford's calculations are based on the number of U.S. troops in Vietnam during a full year; the Pentagon bases its figures on the average monthly number of soldiers.

Ford reported the weekly ratio of noncombat deaths per 1,000 men hit a peak of 6.96 during a six-week period earlier this year. The increase prompted Ford to ask if "the bodies of our dead in Indochina are being used in some sort of grisly numbers game to make the casualty lists more acceptable."

In his letter to Laird, Ford said: "I do not raise the questions lightly nor without detailed study of the facts involved."

Asst. Defense Secretary Robert C. Moot, in replying to Ford Tuesday, said: "casualty statistics are not now and never have been manipulated for any purpose whatsoever."

Moot said figures based on average monthly troop strength "give a more realistic picture ... and result in a fairly constant rate for the years 1965-1970 ..."

Ford, however, contended Tuesday: "The basic fact still exists that the ratio of noncombat deaths has shown a drastic increase in the past two years, both in relation to total deaths and in relation to troop totals."

And, in another letter to Laird, he said, "Your reply has not allayed my suspicions."

He asked the secretary for a monthly breakdown on troop totals and deaths in Southeast Asia in order to make his own comparisons.

Ford said he began his study after reading of an Ohio youth whose death in Vietnam was attributed by Army authorities to a sunstroke.

An autopsy showed three bullet holes in the soldier's body.

ah 2-0, Shreveport edged Memphis 5-4, Charlotte whipped Columbus 8-3, Montgomery bombed Jacksonville 12-2, Albuquerque nipped Amarillo 5-4 and San Antonio defeated Dallas-Fort Worth 10-6.

Rep. G. Elliott Hagan, D-Ga., estimated 50 to 60 per cent of all servicemen use or have experimented with drugs, mostly marijuana, and said the percentage in Vietnam is probably higher.

A recent report from the Pacific Command said 1,404 GIs were hospitalized from drug use in Vietnam in 1970 and estimated from 1,800 drug-related cases in sick call in December there were 22,000 for the full year.

The finding that "high government officials" in the South Vietnamese government are involved in drug traffic was based on a briefing from two U.S. civilian narcotics agents in Saigon.

They said opium and heroin are smuggled by the traditional ethnic Chinese traffickers, who are aided by corrupt officials.

"While it's democratic, the plain and simple facts are that the military rules the government in this country," an agent said. "In that situation the participation of military officials in the traffic is greatly facilitated."

Hope-Bobcaw 'Phone Books Are Ready

Hope and Bobcaw telephone customers will begin receiving their new telephone directories Thursday, April 29, with delivery to continue through May 1.

"More than 7,300 copies of the two-column directory will be mailed," Manager Jack Bayles of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company said.

"The new directory's white pages will contain about 5,200 listings, the same amount as last year's book," he said.

Bayles said the 1971 directory cover will feature a full-color photograph of an Arkansas forest scene, representing the state's natural environment at a time when pollution is a national concern.

The directory will also have 89 Yellow Pages, for customer convenience in calling businesses.

In addition to copies for mailing 4,000 extra directories were printed for new customers during the year and for distribution to libraries, telephone offices and customers elsewhere.

Bayles said it was important that customers discard their old directories as soon as they receive the new one.

Everglades Wildlife Threatened

By NICK TATRO

Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Massive fish kills and persistent ground fires threatening other wildlife were reported today throughout the vast Florida Everglades, caught tight in the grip of a six month drought. While officials said the fish kill was the most graphic illustration of the drought's effects on wildlife, they said the most serious problem was fires burning uncontrolled through the pat-like top soil of the Everglades. Called muck, it covers the Everglades in depths ranging from four to five feet.

The fires burn through it in ragged lines, often disappearing underground only to break through to the surface again.

"Wildlife has experienced drought for thousands of years and is fairly adaptable," Maj. Lou Gainey of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission said Tuesday.

"But if this drought goes on long enough and muck fires lower the level of this soil, the depth of the water will drop and the ecological balance will be upset."

Gainey and Robert Miller of the Florida Division of Forestry said the smouldering fires will destroy shelter for birds and other wildlife, leaving only barren, charred ground.

More than a half million acres of brush and grass have been burned over this year. In the past six months, South Florida has received only 5.05 inches of rain, compared with an average 19.76 inches.

Hogs in Half-Hour Scrimmage

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas put in a 30-minute scrimmage Tuesday as the Razorbacks resumed spring football practice following a two-day layoff.

Sophomore Dicky Morton, a 165-pound sprinter from Dallas, Tex., worked at tailback in the absence of junior Jon Richardson. Morton picked up 84 yards on 11 carries including a touchdown run from five yards out.

Richardson missed Tuesday's practice. He was in Little Rock because of a death in his family.

Joe Ferguson fired a 35-yard touchdown pass from the wishbone formation to flanker Jim Hodge in one of the few passes thrown during the scrimmage.

The Porker first defensive unit was not scored upon against the second offense.

"The defense did a little better today," said Coach Frank Broyles. "Everybody came back in pretty good spirits."

The Razorbacks planned a passing session today.

Baltimore Bullets Sign Up Love

BALTIMORE (AP) — The prestige of the National Basketball Association meant more to Stan Love than the bulging bankroll of the rival American Basketball Association.

As a result, the 6-foot-9 star from the University of Oregon has signed a multi-year contract Tuesday with the Baltimore Bullets worth an estimated $500,000.

Nick Grillo, Love's agent, said the Texas Choppers "offered a lot more money, but Stan decided he wanted to play in the NBA, and we acceded to his wishes."

Baltimore, Eastern Conference champs in the NBA, and Texas, which finished in a fourth-place tie in the ABA's Western Division, each picked Love on the first round.

"I was very pleased with everyone I met in the Baltimore organization in the last five days," said Love, who saw the Bullets lose to Milwaukee in the second game of the NBA championship finals on Sunday.

"But I also wanted to play in the more established league against the best players," Love added.

Love, who averaged 24 points and 11 rebounds a game as a senior, will be moved to forward by the Bullets.

Here is another of Jan Wohlin's hands. We have substituted JACOBY MODERN bidding where the opening bid of three no-trump shows a no-trump hand with 25 or 26 high-card points. This makes it easy for North to bid the slam with his balanced 8 high-card points.

West opens the king of spades. South counts his winners and losers. He counts 11 sure winners and the 12th will appear also if he can pick up the diamond jack. There is just no play for the grand slam and South should let West hold the first trick so as to rectify the count on the play for the 12th trick.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB At 52 He's Ready To Give Up Sex

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Doctor Lamb—I am 52 and so is my husband. In the last nine months, our sex life has diminished to almost nothing. He is not stepping out, but says if it is over it will just be over. Frankly, I'm not ready to give up at 52 myself, but would do anything for his peace of mind. He thinks all the other fellows his age just talk. Is this so?

Dear Reader—There is a wide variation in sexual behavior. Increasing age does not necessarily mean loss of sexual desire. Grandma and Grandpa are still sexual creatures even though society sometimes fails to accept this. The hangup on sex began with the idea that sex was solely for procreation, not pleasure or expression of love. Society gradually accepted that pleasure was all right too—hence birth control and more permissive attitudes.

Previously women were not supposed to enjoy sex and, being brainwashed to accept this, many did not. This emphasizes the powerful influence the psychic has on sexual behavior. Men are no different.

Men's sexual desire usually decreases in middle age. They tend to start with a very active sex life, then taper off. Women begin slower and often achieve their peak desire after the menopause. The loss of fear of pregnancy is one factor. Sex is tied to the feeling of youth and women are age-conscious. The result can be a middle-aged mismatch. Some men continue active sex lives beyond the age of 70—even fathering children.

A lagging sex life can change to an outstanding performance when the right physical and emotional stimulus occurs.

Opinions vary on whether or not there is a "male

After this it is a very simple matter to take the rest of the tricks. He wins the second spade and notes that East has shown out. Then he runs off three hearts and four clubs and watches West follow to six of these seven leads. This accounts for 11 of West's 13 cards. He can't have more than two diamonds so South cashes the ace of diamonds, leads a diamond to dummy's king and finesses against East's jack with absolute certainty.

Should South make the mistake of winning the first spade he would have to guess when he got to the third diamond lead. Good guessers do all right, but those who substitute certainty do better.

menopause." Yes, men—and not necessarily older ones—often "talk a good game." But locker room heroes may be lousy lovers trying to re-enforce their masculinity by bragging.

The best approach to sexual problems is to begin with a good talk with your family doctor. If a medical reason exists it can sometimes be corrected. If it is psychological then education often helps. Occasionally a good vacation for just the couple—away from problems—works wonders.
